Facilitators to Evaluation in ATE

ATE PI Conference October 2023

Valerie Marshall
valerie.marshall@wmich.edu
Grayson McKeown
gmckeown@cscc.edu

Themes gathered from ATE PIs, grants specialists, and evaluators during the ATE Evaluation Summit hosted by EvaluATE in May 2023.

Get the most out of your ATE evaluation with EvaluATE's Checklist for Using Evaluation Findings!

Good relationship between project and evaluation teams

"Having a strong relationship with the PI or designated leader."

Resources from ATE support projects

"Webinars, ATE Office Hours with ATE Central, EvaluATE and ATE Central newsletters, etc. resources that build my knowledge of the ATE program."

ATE project staff and participants' awareness of evaluation

"When the students know about us, a much greater percentage of them respond to our requests for feedback."

Strong project management

"Having a PI who can manage the project."

Institutional and departmental processes that support evaluation planning and implementation

"Establishing a working relationship with the institutional research group."